Shakespeare's Birthplace is situated in Henley Street and is the goal of all the many admirers of "Avon's bard" who come hither to worship at his shrine. Here on 23rd April, 1561, was born William Shakespeare, the great poet and dramatist, and here he lived for many years. After his death the house was allowed to fall into desuetude, but in 1857-8 the premises were carefully repaired and restored and now contain many interesting relics of the poet.
